My Lords and Ladies,

It is with great pleasure that I cordially invite you to the Celebration Ball being held in Caina. The inaugural ball of Mayor Treadeau Du'rome is to be held on Saturday, January 20th beginning in the eighth hour of the eve. This event marks the beginning of new alliances and the hope of great economic growth and prosperity for all attending.

For the entertainment of our noble guests, the City of Caina has prepared many diversions:

By special arrangement, the Commander of the Militia, Nexus GraveHeart, has deemed a Dragon a worthy opponent, and shall battle it to the death in single combat. Gambling is most definitely to be encouraged.

Within the infamous Well of Souls there shall be slaughter enough to test the martial prowess of our citizens and our visitors, we invite all present to compete a contest of strength unrivalled throughout the land. To the most skilled warrior in the competition will go the admiration and recognition of all attending and a prize of twenty-five thousand gold crowns.

Murder most foul has been committed among the shadowed buildings of Caina. Join other revelers in deciphering clues to solve this mystery. Was it the Emissary? Was it the Mayor? Was it the zombie shopkeeper in Tainted Goods? A prize for the first correct entry is on offer.

Drink shall be flowing freely and we shall have a wide selection of wines from Caina for your pleasure. Mainland wine shall be available for those who feel somewhat more cautious about our wine cellars. The hallowed walls of the Asylum of Perdition Casino shall play home to the finest food and drink that can be found, in any realm.

Masquerade costumes are strongly encouraged, the more original the better. A prize for the best costume in the amount of twenty-five thousand gold crowns is on offer.

Entry is by invitation only, and uninvited guests shall be removed forcibly from the event.

We look forward to seeing you, distinguished Guests.

Alucard de Lenfent,

Emissary of Caina.
Signed on behalf of Nath

Maezoroeth - Master of Ceremonies.
